

THE SCIENCE of Beauty

The Natural Beauty of Health.

By understanding the science of beauty, and the indicators of good health, we can determine for each patient, the least invasive methods for restoring the indicators of beauty, which have diminished over time.

From refreshing the triangle of beauty, to highlighting the Ogee curve, PDO threads can restore these features for many patients. PDO threads can complement other aesthetic procedures that the patient may need, by improving the health of the skin, providing the doctor with healthier and more elastic skin to work with.

PDO Max offers both group and individual instructional courses, which cover the application of PDO techniques. Our focus is on the science of beauty, and the most effective ways to restore the indicators of health, using minimally invasive techniques that offer stunning results.

Learn how your patients, and your practice, can benefit from the use of PDO threading techniques.
